the survival of indigenous communities and the first european settlers alike depended on a deeply cooperative style of living and working based around common lands shared food and labor cooperative movements proved integral to the grassroots organizations and struggles challenging the domination of unbridled capitalism in america s formative years holding aloft the vision for an alternative economic system based on cooperative industry they have played a vital and dynamic role in the struggle to create a better world seeking to reclaim a history that has remained largely ignored by most historians this dramatic and stirring account examines each of the definitive american cooperative movements for social change farmer union consumer and communalist that have been all but erased from collective memory focusing far beyond one particular era organization leader or form of cooperation for all the people documents the multigenerational struggle of the american working people for social justice with an expansive sweep and breathtaking detail the chronicle follows the american worker from the colonial workshop to the modern mass assembly line ultimately painting a vivid panorama of those who built the united states and those who will shape its future john curl with over forty years of experience as both an active member and scholar of cooperatives masterfully melds theory practice knowledge and analysis to present the definitive history from below of cooperative america consisting of ten collaborative picture essays that weave cindy milstein s poetic words within erik ruin s intricate yet bold paper cut and scratch board images paths toward utopia suggests some of the here and now practices that prefigure however imperfectly the self organization that would be commonplace in an egalitarian society the book mines what we do in our daily lives for the already existent gems of a freer future premised on anarchistic ethics like cooperation and direct democracy its pages depict everything from seemingly ordinary activities like using parks as our commons to grandiose occupations of public space that construct do it ourselves communities if only temporarily including pieces such as the gift borrowing from the library solidarity is a pizza and waking to revolution the aim is to supply hints of what it routinely would be like to live every day in a world created from below where coercion and hierarchy are largely vestiges of the past paths toward utopia is not a rosy eyed stroll though the book retains the tensions in present day attempts to model horizontal institutions and relationships of mutual aid under increasingly vertical exploitative and alienated conditions it tries to walk the line between potholes and potential yet if anarchist and other autonomist efforts are to serve as a clarion call to action they must illuminate how people qualitatively consensually and ecologically shape their needs as well as desires they must offer stepping stones toward emancipation this can only happen through experimentation by us all with diverse forms of self determination and self governance even if riddled with contradictions in this contemporary moment as the title piece to this book steadfastly asserts the precarious passage itself is our road map to a liberatory society a radical feminist history and street art resource for inspired readers this book combines short biographies with striking and usable stencil images of thirty women activists anarchists feminists freedom fighters and visionaries it offers a subversive portrait history which refuses to belittle the military prowess and revolutionary drive of women whose violent resolves often shatter the archetype of woman as nurturer it is also a celebration of some extremely brave women who have spent their lives fighting for what they believe in and rallying supporters in climates where a woman's authority is never taken as seriously as a man's the text also shares some of each woman's ideologies philosophies struggles and quiet humanity with quotes from their writings or speeches the women featured are harriet tubman louise michel vera zasulich emma goldman qiu jin nora connolly o brien lucia sanchez saornil angela davis leila khaled comandante ramona phoolan devi ani pachen anna mae aquash hannie schaft rosa luxemburg brigitte mohnhaupt lolita lebron djamila bouhired malalai joya vandana shiva olive morris assata the housing monster is a scathing illustrated essay that takes one seemingly simple everyday thing a house and looks at the social relations that surround it moving from intensely personal thoughts and interactions to large scale political and economic forces it reads alternately like a worker's diary a short story a psychology of everyday life a historical account an introduction to marxist critique of political economy and an angry flyer someone would pass you on the street starting with the construction site and the physical building of houses the book slowly builds and links more and more issues together from gentrification and city politics to gender roles and identity politics from subcontracting and speculation to union contracts and negotiation from individual belief suffering and resistance to structural division necessity and instability what starts as a look at housing broadens into a critique of capitalism as a whole the text is accompanied by clean black and white illustrations that are mocking beautiful and bleak this book presents a critical analysis of the power and opportunity created in the implementation of community engaged practices within art museums by looking at the networks connecting art museums to community organizations artists and residents the art museum redefined places the interaction of art museums and urban neighbourhoods as the central focus of the study to investigate how museums and artists collaborate with residents and local community groups rather than defining the community solely from the perspective of a museum looking out at its audience the research examines the larger networks of art organizing and creative activism connected to the museum that are active across the neighbourhood taylor's research encompasses the grassroots efforts of local groups and their collaboration with museums and other art institutions that are extending their reach outside their physical walls and into the community this focus on social engagement speaks to recent emphasis in cultural policy on cultural equity and inclusion creative place making and community engagement at neighbourhood and city levels and
